I understand that it is a single meeting at the Oklahoma Oil and Gas Association offices that the OSEE set up. From an earlier email, Devon Energy, Chesapeake Energy, the Oklahoma Independent Petroleum Association were invited. I don't know if the Associations had invited other companies. It is a group setting and no one-on-one time is anticipated. I think that it is a "get to meet" the principals and not an in-depth discussion opportunity.

Rob,
Will Teresa be meeting with companies as a group? Which companies?
Thanks
Mary

Tyler Powell and I have constructed the attached agenda for that portion of the Oklahoma City meeting that focuses on the state / federal regulatory partners. Tyler offered that it could take place over lunch or immediately afterward – but before the meeting with the industry associations or companies.

I have shared a similar draft agenda with Keith Sheedy (TCEQ) and Lori Wrotenbery (RRC) for the Thursday afternoon meeting in Austin. They are to get back to me on Monday and we can finalize an agenda focused on Texas.
